Situation

A significantly extended and completely modernised end-terrace house, arranged over 3 floors with views of the South Downs, with a landscaped garden and off street parking

Patcham is a vibrant village with a bustling High Street and a range of shops and amenities including a Co-Op, cafes, public houses and restaurants. The centre of Brighton can be reached easily via private or public transport and showcases a comprehensive array of world class shopping, arts, culture and dining. There is also a range of revered state and private schools locally.

Situated on the northern ridge of Patcham, this glorious end of terrace house dates to the early 1900's and has been sympathetically and comprehensively refurbished from top to bottom. In line with the modern-day lifestyle, the ground floor is arranged in an open plan fashion, benefiting from solid oak flooring throughout and large bi-fold doors opening out onto the rear patio. The kitchen with modern units has a range of integrated appliances and finished with stylish quartz worksurfaces and a centre island unit. The first floor has 2 bedrooms along with a modern fitted family shower room. Stairs from the landing lead to the second floor where the principal bedroom suite resides serviced by an en-suite shower room and a dressing area with views towards the South Downs. The rear garden has a paved patio adjoining the property leading to lawn along with well stocked plant beds. A designated parking space resides at the rear of the property which is wired ready for an electric vehicle charging station and there is also the benefit of PV solar panels.
